ANNOUNCEMENT No. 1

Conference topics

Reliability issues of technical objects and systems concern a very wide area of applications, especially:

- air, road, rail, sea, and inland waterway, as well as pipeline transport, including means of transport, transportation infrastructure, and management systems,
- industrial and civil engineering,
- energy and electrical and electronic equipment industry,
- information and telecommunications technology,
- mechanical and manufacturing engineering,
- logistics systems and processes,
- agriculture and food industry,
- environmental and mining engineering,
- medicine and health care,
- chemical industry.

The topics of the papers will include theoretical and practical issues of technical objects and systems reliability, including but not limited to:

- objects reliability testing and assessment in operational and maintenance systems,
- modelling and simulation of reliability and durability of technical components and systems,
- objects availability optimisation,
- methods for increasing the reliability of machines and equipment,
- identification of failures and degradation processes of objects,
- analysis of components and systems' resilience to external events,
- human influence on technical systems reliability,
- ecological aspects of components and systems operation and maintenance,
- problems of training on reliability and safety,
- cybersecurity problems.

Organisational information

1. Conference venue: Hotel Meta (Szczyrk)

2. Conference date: January 3rd – 9th, 2027

3. Conference fee: 2400 PLN

The conference fee for PhD students: 2150 PLN

The fee includes: participation in the Conference, meals (breakfasts, lunches, dinners, gala dinner, coffee breaks) and conference materials.

The conference fee does not include accommodation. The organisers provide preferential hotel accommodation prices (when booking min. three nights). Reservation of accommodation should be made directly at the hotel after prior notification of participation in the Winter School on Reliability 2027.

4. Deadlines:

- abstracts' submission \(and, if possible, the full text of the article\) on the templates available on the conference website 15.11.2026 r.
- confirmation of the articles' topic acceptance by the Program Council 5.12.2026 r.
- participation application 10.12.2026 r.
- payment of the conference fee 15.12.2026 r.
- articles' full-text submission 31.03.2027 r.

The complete papers' texts will be reviewed and, after being presented, qualified for post-conference publication in the monograph of the WUT Publishing House. At the same time, we kindly inform you that during the Winter School on Reliability 2027, it will be possible to publish articles in the Special Issues of Sustainability, and Sensors journals by MDPI Open Access (100 points according to the MEiN list) as well as Journal of KONBiN, Eksploracja i Niezawodność – Maintenance and Reliability, WUT Journal of Transportation Engineering journals.

Articles accepted for publication in journals Sustainability, Sensors, Eksploracja i Niezawodność – Maintenance and Reliability, WUT Journal of Transportation Engineering after positive reviews will be subject to an APC Article Processing Charge payable directly by the Authors to the Publisher.

Participation conditions

Participation application

Application for participation in the Winter School on Reliability 2027 can be made by sending an e-mail titled "APPLICATION ZSN 2027" to the address:

zsn.wt@pw.edu.pl

no later than December 10th, 2026.

Please include the following information in the e-mail:

- Participant's name and surname,
- Participant's title / academic degree,
- Participant's affiliation,
- Title of the paper,
- Authors of the paper with affiliation,
- Data for the invoice with a VAT identification number.

Sending an e-mail is tantamount to consent to process the Participant's data concerning his/her participation in the Conference.

Conference fee payment

Payment should be directed to the account:
